Commencement Speaker: George Jones '56

George Jones '56, a SUNY Cortland Distinguished Alumnus and former mission director to Kenya for the United States Agency for International Development (USAID), will deliver today's Undergraduate Commencement address.

Last month Jones retired after serving 21 years with USAID. Most recently, he directed the American support effort in Kenya which involved $25 million and 130 employees.

Jones began his USAID career in Niger, where he started that country's first major health project in the late 1960s. He was promoted to a regional health advisor stationed in the Ivory Coast and worked with 24 African nations. Jones became a USAID deputy director in the Indian Ocean island nation of Sri Lanka before returning to Africa as a developmental specialist in Eritrea. In 1994, he fulfilled a career goal when he became a mission director in Kenya.

A native of Yonkers, N.Y., Jones was president of his freshman, sophomore and junior classes at SUNY Cortland before being elected the first African-American student government president at the College in 1955-56. He earned a bachelor's degree in education in 1956. A U.S. Army veteran, Jones went on to earn a master's degree in guidance and personnel administration at Columbia University and a Ph.D. in medical sociology from the University of Colorado.

Jones began his career working with disadvantaged youngsters at the Leake and Watts Children's Home in Yonkers. He then took a job in Colorado where he developed the first comprehensive plan of action for the mentally disabled in that state.

In 1968, President Lyndon B. Johnson selected Jones for a 22-member Committee on Mental Retardation. Jones toured Europe and visited facilities with the wife of Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Jones received a fellowship from the Institute of Current World Affairs in 1969 to spend two years in Kenya and one year in Tanzania visiting villages and writing newsletters about East African family life.

In 1973, Jones returned to Colorado as a special assistant to the vice president for health affairs at the University of Colorado Medical Center. He then directed the State of Colorado Division of Developmental Disabilities for the next two years prior to joining the USAID.

SUNY Cortland awarded Jones its highest honor, the Distinguished Alumnus Award, in 1979. He and his wife, Carole, the deputy mission director in Kenya, were married in 1959. They have two children, Tamara and Gregory, living and working in the United States.

Academic Heraldry

As an occasion meant to be both joyful and solemn, Commencement lends itself to the pageantry of an academic procession rooted in medieval times. The gowns and hoods worn by faculty members, candidates for graduation, and platform dignitaries, distinguish the institution from which the wearer was or will be graduated, the level of the degree earned, and the field of learning.

In 1985, American colleges established a standard code of academic dress, specifying three types of gowns. The gown for the bachelor's degree has pointed sleeves, the gown for the master's degree has an oblong sleeve with the front part cut in an arc, and the gown for the doctor's degree has bell-shaped sleeves. The doctor's gown is also trimmed in velvet. The hood's inner lining, which folds out at the back and center, indicates the colors of the institution granting the degree, while the border, which comes around to the front of the neck, represents the field of learning.

The black mortar board cap is standard. Its only distinguishing feature is a gold tassel worn by the holder of the doctor's degree.

The Mace

The mace is a ceremonial staff used as a symbol of authority. The mace bearer precedes the platform party and places the mace on a special stand where it remains while the official proceedings of Commencement are under way. SUNY Cortland's mace, the "Torch of Learning," is made of silver and rosewood and was created by local silversmith John Marshall.

The Gonfalons

The three bright banners carried in the academic procession are called gonfalons. The gonfalon in red, white, black and grey represents the College. The gonfalon in shades of peach and green represents the School of Professional Studies. The gonfalon in blue, grey and burgundy represents the School of Arts and Sciences. The gonfalons were designed by Libby Kowalski, professor of art and art history, and Kathy Maher, a 1984 SUNY Cortland graduate. The standards were made by Bard Prentiss, associate professor of art and art history emeritus, and J. Eric Kroot. Materials were provided by the Gilbert and Mary Cahill Foundation and Distinguished Teaching Professor of Sociology/Anthropology Emerita Rozanne M. Brooks.

Alma Mater

*By lofty elm trees shaded round,
Tioughnioga near,
Our grand old Cortland College stands,
to all of us how dear!
We'll sing to thee, dear Alma Mater,
Of love that shall never die,
We'll strive for thy glory eternal,
Keep thy stainless honor high.
Inspiring each son and each daughter
The noblest aims to try,
All thy fame and thy spirit,
Thy might are ours
As the swift years hurry by.*
